24-Hour Care adds dementia care specialists

GALENA—24-Hour Care recently added a dementia care team with the main goal of keeping loved ones with dementia in the comfort of their home, safely and compassionately.

Statistics show that one in three home health clients have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related dementias. 24-Hour Care staff believe that in order to provide the services that best fit your loved ones needs, dementia care specialists are the perfect fit.

The 24-Hour dementia care team specializes in:

- recognizing Alzheimer's disease and related dementias. By recognizing dementia in its earlier stages our care team can help the patient live independently in their home, safely. Early treatment can also be provided by spotting dementia in its early stages which can slow the progression of dementia.
- developing trust with the patient. Building trust helps develop quality care. Our team will be the center of your loved ones quality of life, health and well-being; so building trust to understand your loved one's needs and preferences, as well as their medical need, is our top priority.

- understanding non-verbal cues. While it's important to understand dementia patients' individual characteristics to keep them familiarized with their home and surroundings, it's also important to understand when they are no longer able to speak anymore.

24-Hour's dementia care team takes the time to get to know each patient to create a care plan individualized specifically for that client's needs.

24-Hour Care understands dementia isn't easy, but you are not alone.
